THE VOICE BOX By: Vincent Thomas

The Voice Box is now here! Drop your work and submissions for this newsletter into the Voice Box found in the Greenleaf library. You can submit: student publications (short stories/poems/art), letters to the editor, classified ads, and any suggestions that you want to be seen in the next student newsletter. The Voice Box can also be used to submit suggestions to your Student Government (ASCMC), if you see something that needs to be changed on campus, let your Student Government know!

TALENT SHOW By: Joshua Torres

Greetings, Friends! ASCMC is proud to present CMC's Spring Student Talent Showcase! We haven't had one in a while, but we know we have a talented group of students, and we are so excited for the opportunity to showcase the quality of our talented artists to our college and our community! The event itself will be at the Bell Center on Saturday, April 8th, from 6—8:30pm. Compete for 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place prizes! Prizes are subject to change depending on audition turnout, but as of now we are discussing at least $300 worth of prizes, including a trip to Disneyland! Audition times and places are as follows:

- Friday, March 10th, 2-3pm, Bell Center Foyer
- Friday, March 17th, 2-3pm, Bell Center Community Room

You can find Audition Forms at cmccd.edu. I look forward to bearing witness to your talents! Please don't hesitate to contact Joshua Torres with any questions concerning the Student Talent Showcase. Also if you're interested in volunteering to help make this event successful, we will welcome an e-mail for that as well.

INTERNATIONAL PIE DAY

By: Herman Eyrich

Pie, what could be better than, pie? Pi, worthy of a celebration, especially if pizza is being served. That's right people, the students of ASCMC are hosting an international pie day event. On March 14th from 12:00-3:00pm, we are serving students pizza pies, coffee, hot chocolate, and donuts for a fair price. This pie is courtesy of Bruce's Coyote Kitchen so come one, come all, to enjoy this mathematical celebration!

A BRIEF HISTORY OF Π

The mathematician

Archimedes used polygons with many sides to approximate circles and determine the Pi was approximately 22/7. The symbol (Greek letter "π") was first used in 1706 by William Jones. A 'p' was chosen for perimeter of circles. In recent years, Pi has been calculated to over one trillion digits past its decimal. Only 39 digits past the decimal are needed to accurately calculate the spherical volume of our entire universe. 3.1415926...

LETTER FROM THE ASCMC PRESIDENT

Attention Copper Mountain College Students! This is ASCMC President Bernard McFadden writing to encourage as many of my fellow students to participate in the Spring 2017 Elections. As many of you know, it is important to become a part of college clubs or organizations to be active in campus life. Doing so helps you to gain social skills, real life experience, and will help keep you motivated in your academics. There are currently five Officer and sixteen Senator positions that you can run for during the Spring election for your student government. The sixteen Senator positions are voting members of ASCMC, each Senator represents one-hundred students enrolled at Copper Mountain College. Officers are a vital part of Associated Students because they are the ones who keep faculty and staff up-to-date on the activities which Associated Students are involved in. They keep agendas posted and hold weekly meetings at CMC. Officers also keep accountability of their respective peers, such as the Senators, clubs, and others who participate in college activities. As a member of Associated Students you can help make important decisions regarding campus activities by voting in student government and voting on shared governance committees that are comprised of the faculty and staff. Not to worry though, the public is welcome to all Associated Students meetings, and we encourage it. Because when it comes to student's voice, we want to hear from you. We want you well informed and want to help you when you need information regarding which clubs are available, what shared committees there are, and which ones will be available to you and your schedule. So please consider running for any position the Spring. Your voice needs to be heard! Turn election packets in by April 7, 2017 to the Student office in the Christine Proudfoot Activity Center or the Presidents Office in the 100 Quad with the required ten student signatures to be eligible for the 2017-2018 term. Lastly, if you want to sit in one of our meetings to see how it works feel free to do so, we meet Fridays in room 111 from 3-5pm. To become a sworn Senator your minimum requirement is to attend three consecutive ASCMC meetings. Thank you for you time. 😊

Sincerely, ASCMC President Bernard McFadden.

ARE YOU TO “HANGRY” TO STUDY? By: Joshua Torres

If you're anything like me, skipping breakfast can quickly turn into skipping lunch... and then dinner. Whether it's because I'm busy or broke, not eating regularly comes up with a vengeance in the classroom: trying to concentrate and trying to stay awake become my biggest obstacles. And if I still haven't eaten by the time I get to my homework, or have to study for a test, or have to take a test—forget about it!

Did you know our faculty and staff have been working on providing more opportunities for students to nourish themselves and feel better prepared for class? If you're a student who might feel like you need a pick-me-up to be able to just get through class, please ask a faculty or staff member about CMC's Nutrition Break program. No applications, no catch, just ask.

If you want to grow your brain, you have to feed your body first.
